

Agnes Marie Brown

October 17, 1928 - April 25, 2025

Agnes Marie Brown, a beloved sister, aunt and friend, passed away peacefully on April 25, 2025, at the age of 96. She was one of six children born in Only, Tennessee, to the late Paul and Ilma Prince Brown. In addition to her parents Agnes is preceded in death by three of her siblings, Mary Nell Powell, Elizabeth A. Long, and Bobby J. Brown

After graduation from Hickman County High School in 1947, Agnes built a long meaningful career with AT&T, where she found not just a job but a calling. Her work began as a switchboard operator. Her dedication, skill, and patience soon led her to become a trainer. Agnes traveled throughout the United States helping to train switchboard operators. Her work earned her the recognition of being named a Telephone Pioneer by AT&T, a distinction she carried with great pride. She found deep joy in helping people succeed, both on the job and in life, always offering encouragement and a steady hand.

Agnes had a deep passion for genealogy and was endlessly fascinated by the rich history of her hometown Hickman County, Tennessee. She resided in the Oak Hill area in Nashville, Tennessee, for the last 30 years and regularly attended Belmont Methodist Church. Agnes loved all her neighbors; she found great joy in caring for and connecting with them.

Agnes is lovingly remembered by her sisters, Peggy (Bill) Hogan of Only,

Tennessee, and Nancy Carolyn McCaleb of Nunnely, Tennessee, along with a host of nieces and nephews.

McDonald Funeral Home in Centerville, Tennessee is honored to be serving the Brown Family during this difficult time.
