“ I attended Temple Baptist Church with Mr. and Mrs. Grimes. They were old enough to be my parents. My dad also attended that church and passed away while we all were attending there. At that time I had hair to my waist and I would go to church with it still damp and Carmie made certain to hug me every Sunday and say "Is your hair wet?" We made a joke of it. The Lord laid the memory of these two wonderful people on my heart today, so I started to google to see what happened to them after moving back to TN. I so would love to have caught back up with them, but I will one glorious day.
