“ Never a day will pass that I won't think of you. Never a day will pass I won't thank you for what you taught me. My life is complete because of you. I am at rest because you are now at rest. Gods plan we do not know, my heart is filled with many emotions, the greatest, however, is that I know that because you believed in God Almighty that you are now pain free and walking the streets of Gold. I will carry your memories with me the rest of my life along with the values that you instilled in me. My number one goal in life is to do as I promised you "Love and protect my Mother"

“ He was my pawpaw. The strongest greatest man I have ever known. I will forever be in pain without him, but I know he is in a much better place now, no more pain, no more suffering. I have all the love and memories in my heart where they will forever stay. Today as we said our final goodbye my heart was breaking. I love you pawpaw. Rest in peace. Until we meet again...

“ *He was my daddy and the hardest working and best man I ever known ,he was tough with me growing up but in the in end he was right and teaching me and he is and always will be who made me who I am today , he had a heart of gold and would do anything for us kids and momma . I have spent alot of time with with him the last two years and I am glad to get the great times and memories with him we laughed and we cried together the past few years. He is at piece now and no longer suffering . The void of losing you will forever be and my heart breaks knowing I will never sit and talk with you ,will forever hold the memories in my heart .
