“ Daniel and Aiden would always take toys to daycare and school and exchange them. Crystal and myself messaging letting each other know they had come home with another toy that belonged to one another. No matter how many times they got in trouble for bringing toys to school they never listened.

My heart goes out to the Litton and Toy families. This is the most tragic happening one can imagine. May you be comforted by happy memories and by God's loving arms surrounding you.

“ Last Saturday Daniel & Logan spent the night with us. We ordered pizzas & had them delivered just before the storm hit. After we ate he worked on some homework for a little bit. But every time I got up to let the dogs out on put away some thing Daniel would say “Nana what are you doing?” I would tell him and he would jump up and tell me ,”No, Nana, your not, I will do it.” and he would lead me back to my seat. Later on I put Logan to bed and told Daniel to get some rest, that school work could wait. So he came into the living room and said “let me pick out a show to watch ,Nana”. So I let him & he picked out some vampire anime show. So I laid back in my recliner to watch while he laid on the couch. I fell asleep in a matter of minutes. I don't think I slept long before I woke up and looked over at Daniel. He was smiling I ask what's so funny he said “Nana, look at you, you have a cat on your shoulder, one on your chest and two fighting between your knees. You look like a human cat tower “. I laughed and said look at you, you have a dog on your chest and one between your knees, so what do you think about that my little dog whisperer. He laughed so hard then said “I love you Nana”
