“ Doris was a member of our church in Detroit since December 2004 when I baptized her. I was blessed to be Doris' pastor since that time. I conducted the wedding ceremony between her and Lee Morrison, and was blessed for ten years to witness between them one of the happiest marriages I have ever seen. Doris was quiet and stayed in the background. But she just had a way of working her way into your affections so that you loved her dearly. Every year for our church picnic she would make me a fried apple pie, which I loved. I rejoice to know that she has attained that better portion for all true believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. I send my condolences to her family that looked after her so well when she returned to Tennessee after Lee's death.
