“ Dorothy was an incredible lady. She always had a smile on her face. She was our neighbor. When people asked where I lived they would say "you live next door to Dorothy Sue, she is so sweet and an excellent cook!" When we moved here I didn't know a lot about gardening but I wanted to do it and James and Dorothy were always kind enough to give advice to help me. James tilled our garden for us. We have purple martin gourds in our backyard and they helped educate me about them too. I grew beets in my garden and Dorothy and I were talking about pickled beets. I told her how much I loved them and she volunteered to pickle my little crop of beets for me. They were absolutely delicious. She told me you have to grow more next year and she helped me through the process to can those. She always said the best part about canning was the noise you heard when the jar seals. I will miss seeing her next door, talking to her, waving to her, and seeing her with her grandbaby and his little car. I don't know if my beets will ever be as good as hers, but I will always think of her when I hear the pop of the jar sealing.
