“ Erica was a best friend while we were at The Next Door together. She made every day better for me. I would wake her up in the mornings so she didn't miss breakfast. We had lots of girl time on breaks... I would curl her hair for visitation on Sundays and she let me use her make up. At night when we would sit and watch TV she always had to watch the Bernie Mac show and I would beg her to massage my back until she gave it. I would sneaks snacks in her bag everyday. I really enjoyed the 30 good days I got with her. She really wanted it this time. She talked about being back with her family so often. We talked about all the regrets we had and the people we had hurt during a hard time in our lives. I'm gonna miss her like crazy. I love you Erica, rest easy sweet girl!

I'm her daughter, since it's getting close to time in the memory of her death , I've been thinking a lot of her. I've wanted to know all about her since I didn't get the chance too. If you want to we can catch up and talk about her. Her memory is everything.
