“ Son everyday I think about what a precious gift you were abd what a devastating loss it was losing you. I miss you so bad I took back at your life and realize what a great person you were and how every room you entered you lit up with the light of your beautiful soul. You taught me how not to judge people. You taught me how to live people for who they are not the mistakes they made. You are a perfect addition to heaven with the heart of all hearts and the soul of pure gold. I live you son and you was right about minardi. He does live me and it took you being gone for our most memorable opening of hearts to happen. Thank you for your enlightenment in our lives. You touched everyone you met in an angelic way. I love you and I miss you
