“ He was our son's bus driver for years. On the day of our son's first day going to school and riding the bus, he told us later that we were the saddest looking parents he'd ever seen. And, of course we felt very sad and had followed the bus to school the first morning. We can laugh now, thank goodness. He was a person you felt you could trust your child to so I have good memories of him.

“ My first memory of Guy was seeing him step off a school bus with a thermos in his hand. He loved driving that thing.
