“ Cary - we attended UT-Martin together many years ago. Rory reached out this morning to let me know about this change in your life.

Your father must have been one incredible man to have given you the foundation to create the life you've built. The transition when our parents leave this world is such an intimate and enormously impactful milestone in our lives. Walk through it at your own pace. Know that the life he saw you create, was the best gift you ever gave him. And have certainty, his presence will always be an active influence for you... just listen; he'll be there.

You'll be in my thoughts, Cary.
