

James Wayland

October 4, 1929 - February 15, 2011

Mr. Wayland was born in Iron City, TN to the late Marvin O. and Waymon Newman Wayland. He served his country in the Army during the Korean Conflict. He taught electronic at the Vocational School for 20 years and owned the tv repair service at the Western Auto Store for 20 years. Besides his parents he is preceded in death by a son, Jackie Dean Wayland and a sister, Doris Duncan. Survivors include his wife, Peggy J. Warren Wayland of Hohenwald; son, Terry Lee (Jane) Wayland of Hohenwald; daughter-in-law, Paula Wayland of Calvert City, KY; grandchildren, Jonathan Wayland of Hendersonville, TN, Emily Locke of Maryland, Darren Wayland and Lindsey Wayland both of Hohenwald; great grandchildren, Jaxon Dean Wayland of Hendersonville, TN and Raylee Shea Wayland of Hohenwald, TN.

Tribute Wall

PF

“ What a wonderful man from such a strong Christian family. I remember James as a powerful Sunday School teacher and his Dad as a strong preacher of God's Word when I was a little girl. Heaven is blessed today with James's presence. Praying God's peace for his family.

Paula Curry Williams Feb - February 20, 2011 at 12:00 AM