“ Johnny was one if the nicest people I knew. He was always very happy and could always make you laugh. If you needed someone to talk to, he was there. He is truly missed and deeply cared about.

“ Johnny's top priority every time I was around him was his children. It impressed me very much that a man of his age had his family as his top priority. He was always very respectful and very intelligent. It is very unfortunate that his children will not be able to grow up with him in their physical presence.
