My sweet, sweet, friend. My heart is so broken and I could not even come to your service. Please forgive me my sweet friend as the pain is far too much for me to endure seeing you that way. I want to keep the wonderful memories of you near to me always seeing your smile or hearing the kind words that you always had for me. In time I will be able to visit your family and let them know how much I love them just I have loved you Kathy. This is not goodbye. I have the promise of my dear sweet Lord, that I will see you again.

“ Although we had lost touch through the years, the memories of my best friend from high school keep her close to my heart. We experienced a lot of "growing-up moments" together during those years. Regrettably, our lives sent us in different directions. Rest in peace sweet friend; I will always cherish the memories of our adventures. Much love and prayer for Dad, Judy, Debbie, Kathy's children, grandchildren and the rest of the family. May your beautiful memories bring you some comfort during this difficult time.
