“ Mark Sigler was one of the finest people I have ever known. I have known him since 2015 after I went to work at Buffalo Valley in Lewisburg. He was a mentor as I began my counseling career. I was one of if not the last people he clinically supervised to my LPC licensure while working at the prison in Clifton. He set the example for me as to the kind of counselor I wanted to be. He was always himself and did not have to prove himself to anybody. He was a dear friend, ally and advocate. He lived his faith and didn't have to tell you what it was. He was very special and important to my life. I never had the pleasure or opportunity to meet any of the rest of his family but I did know how important they were to him. I have missed not interacting with him daily when I left working at the prison. That was the hardest part of moving on from there. We had a lot in common, including having gone to Bellevue High School. I offer my sympathy and prayers to his family and to all that knew him as well. We all share tremendous loss. God has called him home after a life well lived.

Our paths crossed many times since then. I am deeply saddened to hear about your loss. If you believed it appropriate, I would like to hear More details about mark. I can be reached at drrick@drrichardtaran.com. Again? I am so sorry for your loss.

“ Mark and I went to school together, went to the same church, and rode the same school bus until they moved to Nashville. I have many fond memories of my friend, from those years. My prayers are with his family and friends, for the comfort God can give them.💕🙏
