We are sorry to hear of the loss of Mary Ann. Just happened to check the obituaries. She was a friendly, sweet lady whom I wish that I had known better. Don was a classmate and very good friend. Losing one's parents is a major event in one's life, and we wish for you comfort and moments of joy as you remember her. We will be gone this weekend, and I am sorry not to come and pay our respects.

I spoke with Mary Ann during the week following the fire at our church. Her concern for our building and what our members would do while the restoration work goes on was so sweet. Then, of course, we talked about all the things going on in our family. Our visit lifted my heart; she was her usual happy and caring self. Even though our visits were few and far between, I am sad to know that I won't be able to have anymore with her. What joy she gave to those around her. My love to all of you.
