“ Robbie was an excellent seamstress. I was an amateur but decided to make my wedding dress myself. I misjudged how long it would take me and panicked that I wasn't going to be able to finish the train on time. Robbie took over and made the train for me and didn't charge me a dime. It was beautiful. She also had grown some beautiful roses that she gave me to use at the wedding. She was one of the sweetest, kindest persons I've ever known. I will always have fond memories of her. She and my sister Dot Turnbow had a special friendship. I hope they are having fun reminiscing about old times.
