“ We will miss Bob so much. I am thankful to be "family." He was unique and never feared getting "outside the box!" When his Peggy passed away, he lost a part of himself too, but I never heard him complain or show self-pity. He loved his independence, but above all, he loved his family. As I learn more and more about him from the grandkids and great grandkids, I'm amazed by how involved he was in their lives. Everytime he would see me, he'd think I was Brandi, but when I told him it was Jan, he'd just say, "Aw, I know it's you, Jan." I'd quip back to him that it was fine to mistake me for someone younger just no one older, please! Not long ago, he told me how much he loved the Lord and enjoyed going to worship with his kids. With age, he mellowed and just became kinder and gentler. He found a pair of shoes under Peggy's bed (after her death) that she had bought for him, and it made him so happy to know she had been thinking about him and bought them for him. I wish I had known that he played the accordion. I would have insisted that he play and let me sing along. All of the Feichtinger family will be in my prayers; he loved you so very much!

Love you all!
