“ My first memory of Ruhama is from when I was a junior in high school. She was the mother of my sister-in-law, Deb, and she invited me over to her beautiful home to have my picture made in my Junior/Senior Banquet dress. She treated me as if I was a beautiful, young woman, quite a treat for a gangly girl raised in a house full of brothers. I've never forgotten that, and when I met her again after being gone for 30 years, she treated me exactly the same.

Ruhama is a jewel.
