“ Still trying to put words into the devastation of Scott’s passing... I haven’t seen him since school but it’s very apparent his soul never changed. Many of my BEST years throughout childhood included Scott. He meant so much to so many. He was “that guy”. The guy everyone was (best) friends with. The guy that would light up any room he entered. The guy everyone wanted to watch play any and all sports. The guy everyone wanted to be faster than. The guy that was always the life of the party.... I could go on for days. (Legend) No matter where life took him, it’s apparent that this light was never dulled. My thoughts and continued prayers for his family, friends, and our community.
Please understand that he may be absent in his physical body, but he will live on in all our hearts. ❤️ May the good Lord wrap you all in His comforting arms for the many days to come.
