“ I sure do have a lot of happy childhood memories visiting with Uncle Dee, Aunt Janie and the kids. I will never forget his laugh or his sense of humor. I especially remember the time he convinced me to help him haul hay for pay. We worked and sweated all weekend hauling heavy hay bales and them stacking them in the barn. Finally the weekend was over and true to his word he paid me- -50 cents! Many years later I asked him if he remembered this? He said "I sure do" then laughed long and hard.

Uncle Dee and Daddy served in the US Navy together during WWII and fought in the Battle of Okinawa. It was Uncle Dee who introduced Daddy to his sister, our Mother. The Bolton children owe a large debt to Uncle Dee for this introduction.

Rest in peace and tell Aunt Janie we said hi.
