“ Steve was one of my best friends growing up in Charlotte park. We had some good times camping, fishing and playing in the creek. I will never forget all the fun we had back in the 70's. Rest in peace my ole friend.

“ Uncle Steve....where to begin. Many know of your tumultuous life and the side of you that reflected that. But I always think of the real you, and I don't know how many people had the luxury of really seeing YOU. The sweet, tender, patient and thoughtful side of you. All you had to do was be in a room and children naturally gravitated to you, and you always made time for them. And made them feel so special. How you seemed to be born with an incredible ability to make ANY plant not just grow, but thrive. And animals. From baby ducks to a dog in a car accident-no need for a vet if you were there. This innate knowledge you had, knowing what to do, how to do it and when. Almost as a reflex that you didn't even have to think about. And in nursing school-the subject matter you experienced, lived and fought so much. You were patient with my questions and honest with your answers. I'm a better nurse for it. Thank you. I wonder if Gana is upset that you are gone from this Earth so soon or if she is loving the ability to have you with her again. A little of both, maybe? I hope you are with Gana and your father both-you haven't seen my grandfather in 51 years. I hope you are at peace, Uncle Steve. Love you ❤️

“ My heart hurts for the Verchota family. I remember, as a child, visiting, Big Momma, Aunt Sue, and Steve. Steve had several exotic animals, at the time. . . But his beloved pot bellied pig, sticks out, the most! He seemed to have a connection with animals, that few people are blessed with. My father (Dwight Maddox Sr.) Always talked about the extraordinary work, the Verchota's created in hardwood. Steve will be greatly missed.
