“ I just learned of Tim's passing last night and I'm so shocked and saddened by his death. Tim was such a great person and I took to him as soon as we were introduced the first time by a fellow sailor. I met him in HI and stayed with him there twice and stayed with them when he was stationed in MD. I always called him Timmy T and he called me Reese since we both had a love of Reese Cups. I remember his fascination with guitars and Mustangs. He drove me all over the island of Oahu in his red 65 Mustang with the top down going to pineapple plantations. We were in downtown Honolulu when the movie The Firm was first shown. We walked all over the area after the movie. When I moved back to WV from MD he brought my mattresses in his big black Ford truck that we called the Daddy truck. He is a person one can never forget. My deepest condolences to his family.

“ I knew Tim while stationed in Hawaii in 1992. He was a great guy with a big heart and warm smile. May his memory be a blessing to all who knew him.

“ I first met Tim back at CINCPACFLT in HI in 1992. I was amazed at the various talents he had. Guitar, drawing and mechanics. Seems like anything he put his mind to he not only made it happen he excelled at it and yet remained humble and down to earth. You could have any conversation with him and still be at ease. A true blue good guy.

“ Tim was a co-worker at the White House. We shared an office for about two years. I loved his humor. He had the ability to toss out the right joke, sound, or impression with impeccable timing. The office could always count on Tim to make us laugh. And, I love to laugh. I'm from Tennessee, like Tim. I fondly remember how Tim would impersonate Chumley the walrus on the cartoon Tennessee Tuxedo. The impression was perfect and, both of us being from Tennessee, got just a little extra laugh.

Just a great guy and I'm better for having known him!

“ I remember Tim from little boy days when he was still at home with his mom and dad. He was a cute, chubby little boy. He grew up to become a man and joined the Navy. Didn't know him as a man, but I know he was a good one and served his family and his country well.

I know his mother was very proud of him and not only her, but the rest of his family. He will be greatly missed by his wife and children and the rest of his family. Tim's home going leaves a big whole in everyone's heart and life. I know that we will see him again in heaven, but it still hurts. I send my sympathy and love to Sam and children, Don and Mona and all the siblings and their families. I love you and God bless. Praying for the family. Sondra, Angie and Becky Mann,

“ I have known "Chief Tim" as I will always refer to him in my mind, since 2000 when Tim was the Chief on the USS Harry S. Truman. It was our first duty station as a married couple, and Tim was a huge help to both of us. He mentored Travis about ship life, investments, and general life lessons. He helped me know how to support my husband when he went on deployment and how to cope at home.

Later, Tim was instrumental in Travis' Chief's initiation. He was his rock during this transition, and shaped Travis into the kind of Chief he wanted to be. He didn't stop there, though. He challenged Travis into putting his package in for LDO, a decision that will forever benefit our family.

I feel like we owe Tim so much, and we wouldn't be where we are today without his humble guidance. He was never arrogant, but always knowledgeable. He was always professional, but with a quiet wit. He led by being a role model for young sailors, and was truly an amazing man through and through.

The only thing he loved more than his fellow sailors were his family. Sam and the kids were his whole world, and his eyes would light up in a special way whenever he talked about them.

Tim will be missed by so many whose lives he touched. We will feel this loss forever because of all he gave to all he knew. We love you Tim.

“ I was a co-worker of Tim's and met him for the first time this summer. Tim impressed me as a super nice guy, family man and apparently an excellent cook. He and my husband talked about food and cooking techniques one evening. He will be sorely missed. May God richly bless and comfort the entire Rinehart family during your time of bereavement.

“ To the Rinehart family - Tim was a joy to work with. He always had a smile on his face and was ready to assist in whatever was asked of him. He will be hugely missed within the VA family and the Information Security community. Our hearts are broken for you and with you. Please accept my deepest sympathies, Jessica Carriveau
