“ My favorite memories of Tracey Lee and myself are all the times we went hunting. In the late fall and winter we hunted everyday that we weren't working he was with me when I killed my first buck and I was with him when he killed his first buck. after that we had some great dove hunts, rabbit hunting and many more deer hunts. in late August when ginseng season started we would go into the woods at sunrise and dig as much mature ginseng as we could find. Tracey Lee always knew where the best spots were at and he always made sure to spread the berries and cover them insuring ginseng would continue growing in all the spots we dug. Then we both had to quit because of our health.

The good lord blessed me with the best little brother any man could ask for. He was kind and loving and would go out of his way to help me with anything I'd ask of him. My life has been blessed for having Tracey Lee and also my oldest brother Reggie as a part of it. My heart aches and will always have an empty spot in it.
